

Preamble

In the fall of 2008 the teacher evaluation professional growth committee formed to improve Bethel School District's teacher evaluation process. The committee embraced the Danielson framework model and determined that a differentiated approach would be adopted for teacher evaluations. The District is grateful for the collaborative work of the following teachers and administrators in researching, giving input and creating this model and related documents. Bethel School District offers special thanks to Amy Spangler, the Chalkboard Project and Sherwood School District for assisting us in our efforts. We would also like to acknowledge the Oregon Leadership Network for their support of this project.
